The company Blanco dates its establishment back to 1925 as a private family business specializing in the production of gastronomy equipment.

Highly design sink made of ceramic material Blanco Panor 60. A magnificent ceramic single-sink without a draining surface. The Blanco Panor 60 sink is an attractive solution for both traditional and modern country kitchens. Its noble appearance in bright white color perfectly corresponds with both a rustic wooden kitchen and a modernly designed kitchen unit.

We can include the sink among the so-called farmhouse sinks, which are gradually gaining popularity in the Czech Republic. They belong in country style kitchens, rural or Provencal, but can also be found in modern kitchens. High-quality craftsmanship and natural charm will give your kitchen an exceptional touch.

The undisputed advantage of the Blanco Panor 60 kitchen sink is that it literally terminates the kitchen counter - the ceramic is visible from the front, which is not only interesting but also convenient for washing dishes. You will also appreciate the larger depth (19 cm) of the basin and the easy maintenance of the sink's cleanliness. This ceramic sink has an exceptionally large capacity and you can easily wash larger dishes in it, such as bulky pots or baking sheets.

Modular option highlights the entire washing center even more. This means that they are not firmly connected to the worktop. They are mounted directly on the installation cabinet, and the worktop is either pushed against it from both sides, or the worktop overlaps the edges of the sink from above. Modular sinks are preferably recommended for installation with worktops made of non-absorbent material. If a solid wood worktop is to be used, care must be taken to ensure quality impregnation of the edges of the cutouts in the worktop.

The advantage of a ceramic sink is its easy maintenance and color stability. Even long-term exposure to sunlight or even aggressive materials will not change the color or surface of the sink. The sink is made of special and high-quality ceramic with a unique water-repellent KERAMIK® PuraPlus® surface. Water easily drains off the surface of the sink. Cleaning can be done with a damp cloth and regular cleaning agent.
