Unique sink of the prestigious brand Chambord Louis 595, sometimes also known as Louis I. The kitchen sink Louis 595 features a structured grooved front. It is stylish and suitable for both country and modern kitchens. It is classified as a so-called farmhouse sink with typical rounded corners, which are mostly chosen by people who love traditional or rustic design.

The depth of the sink is 18.5 cm, which is sufficiently comfortable for washing large pots and baking trays. The sink is designed for modular installation, i.e. it is directly mounted on the cabinet. The sink is also suitable for a kitchen island.

Chambord ceramic sinks are distinguished by their luxurious design and high quality craftsmanship. The main advantages of ceramics include high resistance to impact, scratch resistance, high temperature resistance, hygienic safety, and color stability. Dirt and dyes do not adhere to the surface. Ceramic sinks require very little maintenance. If you are looking for a white sink, choose ceramics.
