Precise ceramic single-basin sink Deante Sabor 595 by the very well-known kitchen sink manufacturer Deante. Deante has been on the market for over 30 years, representing a guarantee of quality. Deante brand products are called ProEco, which means that they use natural materials such as ceramics for production. The company is also environmentally friendly, using Eco packaging.

The Sabor 595 kitchen sink will catch your eye with its original appearance. The front part of the sink extends beyond the kitchen countertop, serving both an aesthetic and functional purpose. It allows for comfortable dishwashing in a very spacious and deep (20 cm) sink basin. At the same time, this sink panel serves as protection for the cabinet doors and furniture from water contact. The Sabor 595 sink is classified as farmhouse style. It perfectly fits into rustic kitchen stylizations, especially in a Provencal kitchen layout.

The Sabor 595 single-bowl sink is made of very high-quality glossy ceramics. The main advantages of ceramics include high impact resistance, scratch resistance, high temperature resistance, hygienic safety, and color fastness. Impurities or dyes do not adhere to the surface. Ceramic sinks are extremely low-maintenance. If you are looking for a white sink, choose ceramics.
