The kitchen faucet Eisl Flexo folding not only offers a beautiful design, but also an innovative high-quality product with the latest features. The faucet is stylish and highly functional.

The foldable kitchen faucet Eisl Flexo is designed for use in kitchens where the sink is located under the window or in close proximity to the window. This type of faucet is designed to allow convenient use without obstructing the opening and closing of the window.

One of the main advantages of the Eisl Flexo folding battery is its low profile, which does not interfere with the window space and allows for easy opening and closing of the window. The battery has a rotatable design.

The Eisl battery is made of very high-quality materials (ceramic seal). The packaging includes a mounting kit and an attached manual that will facilitate the entire installation. The battery packaging has two connecting hoses (connections for hot and cold water).

We offer this battery in a color design:

- Shiny chrome
