The brand Granisil represents a mark of high quality and luxurious design. Granisil sinks contain over 80% granite and quartz. Thanks to the presence of natural stone, it is a very durable material. Granisil is completely safe for contact with food.

The granite sink Granisil Vivaldi 1000.10 is a sophisticated solution for customers who appreciate simple and practical design. The single-bowl sink with a basin and a large drainer is a good investment for many years.

In the Granisil Vivaldi 1000.10 model, you can comfortably wash the necessary dishes in a large bowl, and the smaller one can be used for rinsing vegetables, fruits, defrosting meat, or storing smaller pieces of dishes. At the same time, the sink will also provide you with sufficient space for draining larger pots and baking trays.

It is made of a high-quality blend of 80% aggregate and 20% acrylic resin and dye. The smooth surface of the sink prevents the accumulation of dirt and places this sink at the top among stone sinks.

The main advantages of granite sinks include easier maintenance compared to a stainless steel sink, which needs constant polishing. Color compatibility with the countertop, or alternatively with a granite faucet. Design variability - a variety of different models.
